

Name of Your Company

An ad is a short, informal word for an advertisement, which is a public notice or promotion that tries to sell a product, service, or event.

Grammarly +1Usage and Examples*Common formats:

You see ads on television, social media, websites, and billboards.Sentence example: "The company launched a new digital ad for their phone."

Learn English - Hello Word!Synonyms and Related

TermsCommercial: A paid advertisement broadcast on television or radio.Promotion: A business activity intended to raise awareness and boost sales for a product.Classification: Short print notices in newspapers are often called classified ads. Vocabulary.com +1If you meant the abbreviation A.D. (Anno Domini) or something else like a medical term, please let me know!

Your Name

Signature